1.ª FASE

PROVA ESCRITA DE INGLÊS

A prova é constituída por 2 grupos:

- O Grupo I testa a interpretação de textos (ler/escrever), o conhecimento da língua inglesa (em contexto) e o conteúdo sociocultural.
- O Grupo II testa a capacidade de relacionar a obra literária que estudou durante o ano lectivo com o conteúdo sociocultural em que aquela se insere, bem como as competências linguística, discursiva e estratégica (escrever/ler).

Os itens do Grupo I são todos de resposta obrigatória.

Em itens de resposta fechada (escolha múltipla, correspondência, ordenamento, verdadeiro/falso, completamento) será atribuída a cotação 0 (zero) se não forem respeitados os critérios de realização.

O Grupo II é constituído por 3 secções, correspondentes aos diferentes blocos temáticos.

Destas, responderá apenas a uma, que será a referente à obra de leitura extensiva que trabalhou durante o 12.º Ano, cujo conhecimento tem obrigatoriamente de relacionar com a área de conteúdo sociocultural respectiva.

A não observância desta prescrição determina a atribuição de cotação 0 (zero) à resposta apresentada.

Se responder a mais do que uma secção, apenas a primeira resposta será classificada.

A resposta deverá conter entre 150 e 250 palavras.

É permitida apenas a consulta de dicionários unilingues, incluindo os enciclopédicos, sem qualquer restrição ou especificação.

Read the following text:

Margaret Thatcher, The Welfare State and Individual Responsibility

The desire to bring about a society which promotes greater human fulfilment is not the monopoly of any one political party.

It is certainly the duty of Government to do all it can to ensure that effective succour is given to those in need, and this is a Conservative principle as much as a Socialist one. Where 5 Conservatives part company from Socialists is in the degree of confidence which we can place in the exclusive capacity of a Welfare State to relieve suffering and promote well-being. Charity is a personal quality and public compassion, State philanthropy and institutionalized charity can never be enough. There is no adequate substitute for genuine caring for one another on the part of families, friends and neighbours.

10 There cannot be a welfare system in any satisfactory sense which tends, in this way, to break down personal responsibility and the sense of responsibility to family, neighbourhood and community. In recent years, it has been quite widely held to be morally wrong for the individual to choose to make his own provision for the education or the health of his family.

The mission of this Government is much more than the promotion of economic progress.

15 It is to renew the spirit and the solidarity of the nation. To ensure that these assertions lead to action, we need to inspire a new national mood.

At the heart of a new mood in the nation must be a recovery of our self-confidence and our self-respect. Nothing is beyond us. Decline is not inevitable. But nor is progress a law of nature. The ground gained by one generation may be lost by the next.

Lively, Jack and Lively, Adam, eds., Democracy in Britain – A Reader
(abridged and adapted)

1. In your own words, identify the differences between the Conservatives and the Socialists, according to Margaret Thatcher.
2. Relate paragraph 4 to Margaret Thatcher's statement "Nothing is beyond us" (l. 18).
3. Explain how Mrs Thatcher believes that progress is possible.
4. In line 14, the word "Government" is preceded by the determiner "this", but in line 3 there is none. Justify this difference.
5. From the text select two phrasal verbs.

- 6. Identify the type of relative clause used in lines 5-6 (beginning with “which”) and justify its use.
- 7. Comment on the Welfare Policy of Margaret Thatcher and its impact upon the British people. Write between 70 and 100 words.
